About 'पितृत्व'

Introduction:

पितृत्व means the role, responsibilities, care, and guidance that come with being a father. It reflects the emotional support, protection, and active participation of fathers in building a healthy and caring family environment for the child's mental development. The event 'पितृत्व' was organized to highlight the importance of active involvement of fathers and family members in ensuring the health, care, and well-being of mothers along the children.

Summary:

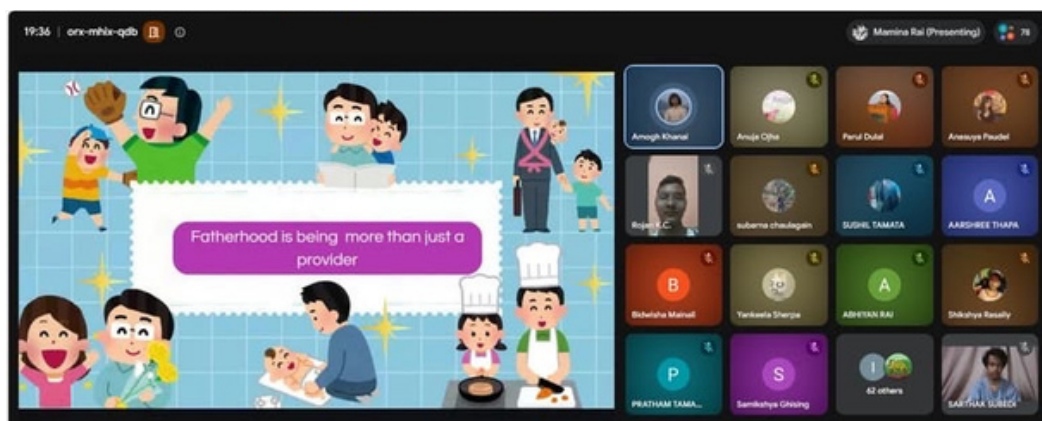

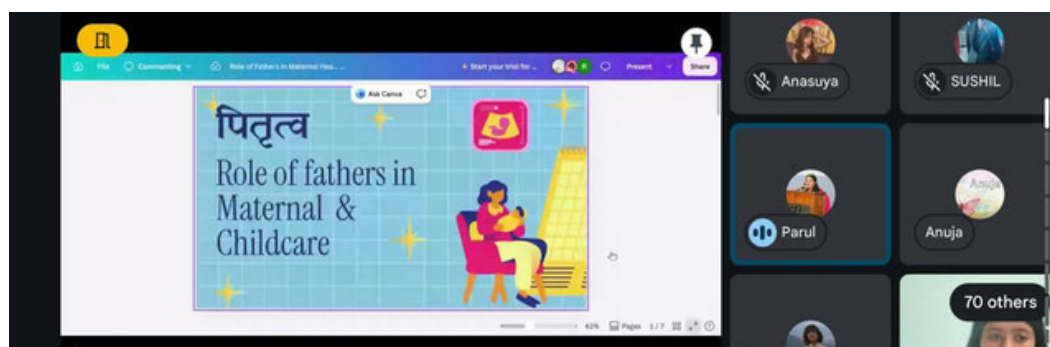

The event "पितृत्व" was conducted in a simple and interactive manner. The program included presentations on the role of fathers in a child's development and daily life, the positive impact of support during pregnancy and childcare along with discussions on how children and fathers can build a healthy, respectful, and friend like relationship. Different ideas and viewpoints related to fatherhood and family bonding were shared during the session. The event highlighted that a father is more than just a provider he is a source of love, guidance, support, and emotional connection within the family.

The session aimed to encourage that maternal and child health is not only the responsibility of mothers but also of fathers and the entire family. Participants learned how supportive family involvement can contribute to better health outcomes, stronger family relationships, and a healthier environment for children.
