About “पाइला – आमा को सिप”

Introduction:

The Interact Club of Everest successfully conducted पाइला – आमा को सिप, a community service project focused on promoting local skills, supporting small businesses and encouraging the use of eco-friendly products. The project aimed to help members understand the importance of local entrepreneurship and its contribution to the community.

Summary:

The members visited Khasauli Bajar where they interacted with local stall owners, observed handmade and eco-friendly products and experienced traditional local flavors. Through interviews with the shopkeepers, they learned about product manufacturing, pricing, marketing and the challenges faced by small business owners.

The visit continued at Gau Ko Koseli, where members explored a variety of local products from different parts of Nepal, including fresh vegetables, clothes made from weeds and everyday household items made from bamboo. These products highlighted the diversity of Nepal's local resources and the importance of using sustainable, eco-friendly alternatives. Mr. Samundra Ghimire, CEO of Gau Ko Koseli also shared his experience on local entrepreneurship, production and distribution.

Overall, the project helped members appreciate traditional skills, understand sustainable practices and recognize how supporting local producers can strengthen community livelihoods.

Feedback

Mr.Samundra Ghimire, CEO of Gau ko koseli : I was happy to see the young members taking an interest in local products, traditional skills and eco-friendly practices. Their curiosity and questions showed a genuine willingness to learn about entrepreneurship and community development. I hope this visit inspires them to support local producers and contribute to a more sustainable future.
