Introduction: To build international friendships and encourage cross-cultural dialogue, the Interact Club of St. Xavier's School, Godavari, hosted a virtual Cultural Exchange Program with a club from Tunisia. Held online, it brought members together across the distance to share their identities and explore new perspectives through real conversation.

Project Summary: The program aimed to build understanding and friendship between the youth of Nepal and Tunisia. It had two parts: a cultural sharing session and an online brainstorming session. Highlights included:

- Cultural Presentations: Both sides showcased their traditions, heritage, and everyday life.
- Community Perspectives: Members talked openly about their communities and what student life looks like in their countries.
- Joint Brainstorming: We discussed ideas for projects the two clubs could take on together.

Participants asked questions, shared opinions, and stayed engaged throughout. The result was a lively dialogue that revealed both our differences and the values we share.
