About "Wicked After Dark"

Introduction

Wicked After Dark was a Halloween-themed event organized by the Interact Club of British Model College (ICBMC) to bring students together for an evening of fun, entertainment, and fellowship. With academics and daily routines keeping students occupied, the event was planned as a chance for everyone to take a break, spend time with friends, and enjoy themselves outside the usual college environment.

Keeping with the theme, students were encouraged to dress up in creative Halloween outfits and get into the spirit of the occasion. The event was open to both Interactors and non-Interactors, making it a great opportunity for students across the college to come together and get to know one another.

Project Summary

The event was held on 30th October at Maya Lounge & Thakali Garden, Jhamsikhel, starting at 4 PM. Students arrived dressed for the occasion, bringing plenty of creativity and Halloween spirit to the gathering.

The evening included a range of activities, such as karaoke, dancing, and interactive games. Students got the chance to sing along, show off their dance moves, and simply enjoy the time together. The music and activities kept the atmosphere lively, while the food and drinks added to the overall experience.

The event was organized under the leadership of the Club President, with club members working together to coordinate the activities and ensure everything ran smoothly. From the costumes and music to the games and conversations, the evening offered something for everyone.

Overall, Wicked After Dark was a fun and memorable gathering that brought students closer together. Beyond the Halloween celebrations, it was about building friendships, welcoming new faces, and creating an environment where everyone could feel included. The event reflected ICBMC's efforts to make college life about more than just academics by creating opportunities for students to connect and enjoy experiences together.
