About “Financial Literacy for students”

Introduction:

The project titled "Financial Literacy for Students" was successfully conducted on 31st October 2026 through Google Meet as a joint hosting initiative of the Interact Club of Emerald Academy and the Interact Club of Narayani Public School, in collaboration with 17 Interact Clubs from different institutions. The primary objective of the project was to educate students about the importance of financial literacy and develop their understanding of financial management from an early age. The session aimed to introduce students to essential financial concepts, encourage responsible financial habits, and help them make informed financial decisions in their daily lives. The program featured Mrs. Priyansi Shrestha (ACCS) as the keynote speaker, who guided the participants through an informative and interactive learning session. With the participation of more than 60 students, the project provided a valuable platform for learning, sharing knowledge, and developing financial awareness among young individuals.

Summary:

The program started with a warm welcome from the Master of Ceremony, who greeted all the guests, speakers, and participants joining the virtual session. The formal session began with the National Anthem of Nepal, followed by the Rotary Anthem and a 15-second silent invocation. After welcoming the distinguished guests, Itr. Aaroshi Rai, Secretary of the Interact Club of Vishwa Adarsha, delivered the formal welcome address and expressed gratitude to everyone for their presence and collaboration. Similarly, Itr. Simon Kattel, IPP of the Interact Club of Dev Bhumi, introduced the keynote speaker, Mrs. Priyanshi Shrestha (ACCS), and highlighted her role in guiding the session. The floor was then handed over to the keynote speaker, who began by introducing the concept and importance of financial literacy among students.

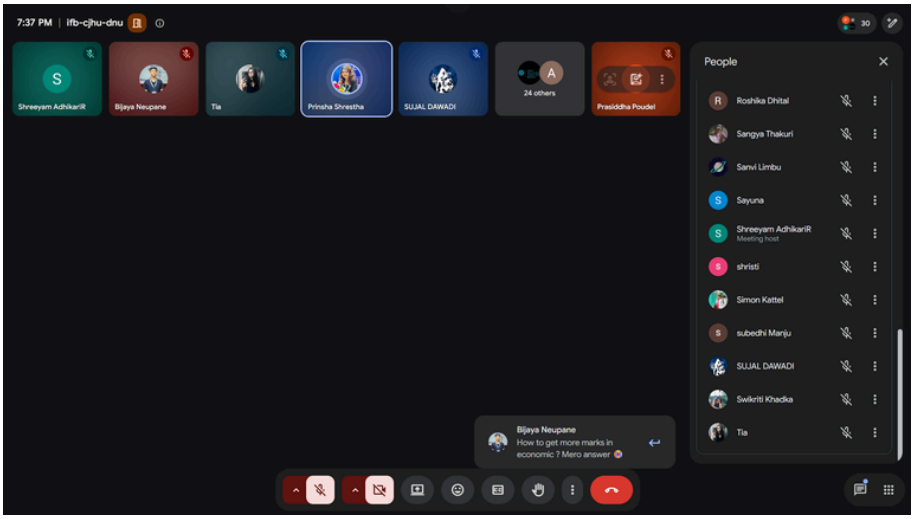

During the session, Mrs. Priyanshi Shrestha delivered an engaging and informative presentation, covering essential introductory concepts of financial literacy and explaining their relevance in students' everyday lives. She emphasized the importance of understanding money, developing responsible financial habits, managing personal finances, and making thoughtful financial decisions. Her friendly approach and interactive teaching style made the session comfortable and enjoyable for participants, allowing them to remain actively engaged throughout the program. With more than 100 participants attending the session, the presentation created an excellent opportunity for students to gain practical knowledge beyond their regular academic curriculum. Many students cleared their confusion related to several topics by asking more and more question to the keynote speaker during Q/A session. At the conclusion of the learning session, a digital token of love was presented to the keynote speaker by the Presidents of both hosting clubs, Interact Club of Emerald Academy and Interact Club of Narayani Public School, as a gesture of appreciation and gratitude. Following this, Interactor Sangya Sen, Community Service Director of the Interact Club of Narayani Public School, delivered the vote of thanks, expressing appreciation to the keynote speaker, collaborating clubs, and all the participants. Finally, the Master of Ceremonies formally concluded the session with a note of gratitude to everyone involved.

Conclusion

The project successfully achieved its objective of promoting financial awareness and educating students about responsible financial practices. The informative presentation and friendly approach of the keynote speaker made the session both engaging and beneficial. The participation of more than 60 students reflected the interest of young individuals in learning essential financial skills. The collaboration among 17 Interact Clubs further strengthened the spirit of teamwork and knowledge-sharing. Overall, the project was a meaningful learning experience that encouraged students to become more financially aware and responsible individuals.
