Candles & Connections

The celebration began with everyone gathering for the birthday cake-cutting ceremony, marking the special occasion as one club. Members shared cake and food, enjoyed each other's company, and celebrated the occasion with excitement. The atmosphere became even more lively when members started playfully putting cream on each other's faces. This created hilarious moments, funny reactions, and endless laughter, making the celebration even more memorable for everyone present.

The fun continued with various games and activities that encouraged members to participate and interact with one another. Everyone enjoyed friendly competition, shared laughter, and spent quality time together. These activities also provided an opportunity for members to connect with people they might not usually get the chance to talk to during regular meetings. Through these shared experiences, members got to know one another even better, discovered common interests, and built stronger friendships within the club.

Overall, "Candles & Connections" was more than just a birthday celebration. It was an opportunity to strengthen the bonds between members and create memories that will remain a part of their Interact journey. The event reminded everyone that Interact is not only about service projects, meetings, and responsibilities, but also about the friendships, unity, and sense of belonging that make the club special. With smiles, laughter, and wonderful memories, the celebration successfully captured the spirit of togetherness and showed that the people we meet along the way are an important part of what makes Interact meaningful.
