About "E-Sports Tournament"

Introduction

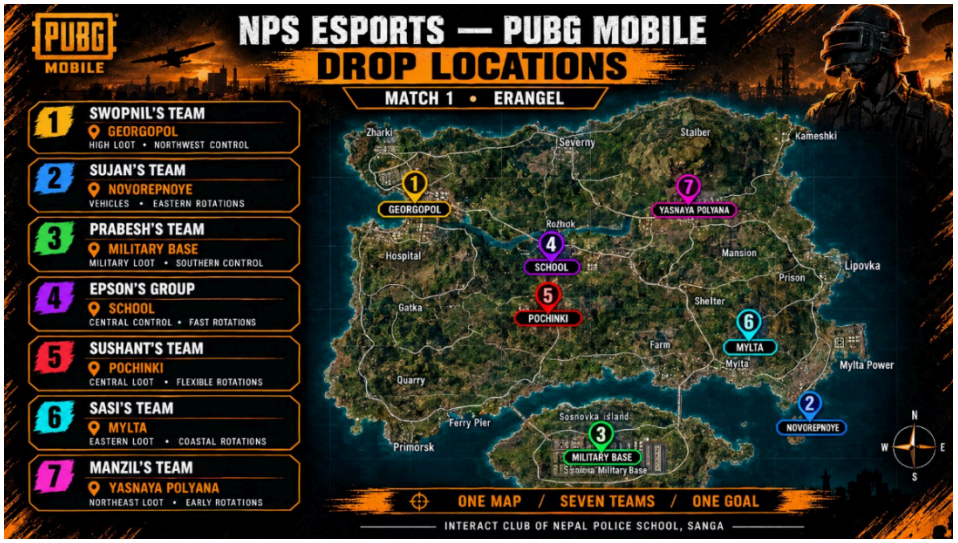

The Interact Club of Nepal Police School organized an E-Sports Tournament for students of Grades 9–12 to encourage teamwork, strategic thinking, and healthy competition. The program aimed to provide senior students with an opportunity to showcase their gaming skills and talents through popular online games. By engaging students in this activity, the club sought to promote sportsmanship, cooperation, and positive student interaction. The tournament featured three popular games: Free Fire, PUBG Mobile, and Mobile Legends: Bang Bang (MLBB).

Project Summary

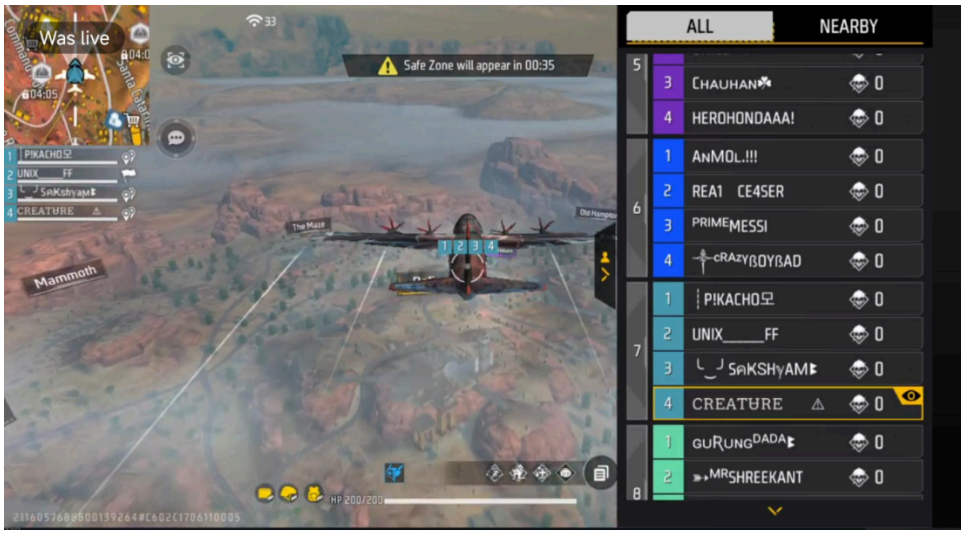

The E-Sports Tournament was organized by the Interact Club of Nepal Police School, Sanga, for students of Grades 9–12. The event featured three gaming categories: Free Fire, PUBG Mobile, and Mobile Legends: Bang Bang. Following the preparation and registration process, participating students competed in their respective games through scheduled matches. The tournament was conducted in a competitive and friendly environment, allowing participants to demonstrate their gaming abilities, teamwork, communication, and strategic skills. Club members actively managed the event, including registration, coordination, match supervision, and result announcements. Winning and runner-up teams were recognized for their performances. The event received positive participation and provided students with an enjoyable platform to demonstrate their talents beyond regular academic activities.

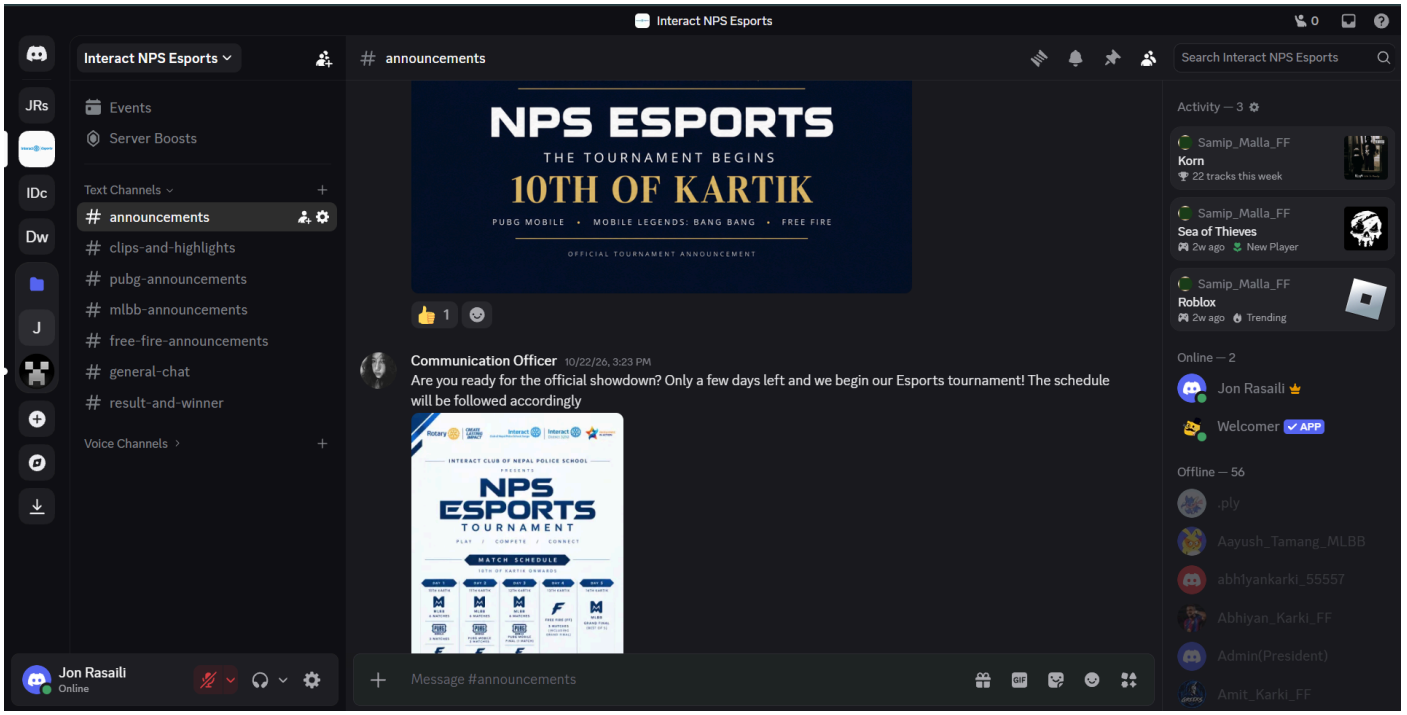

Outcomes

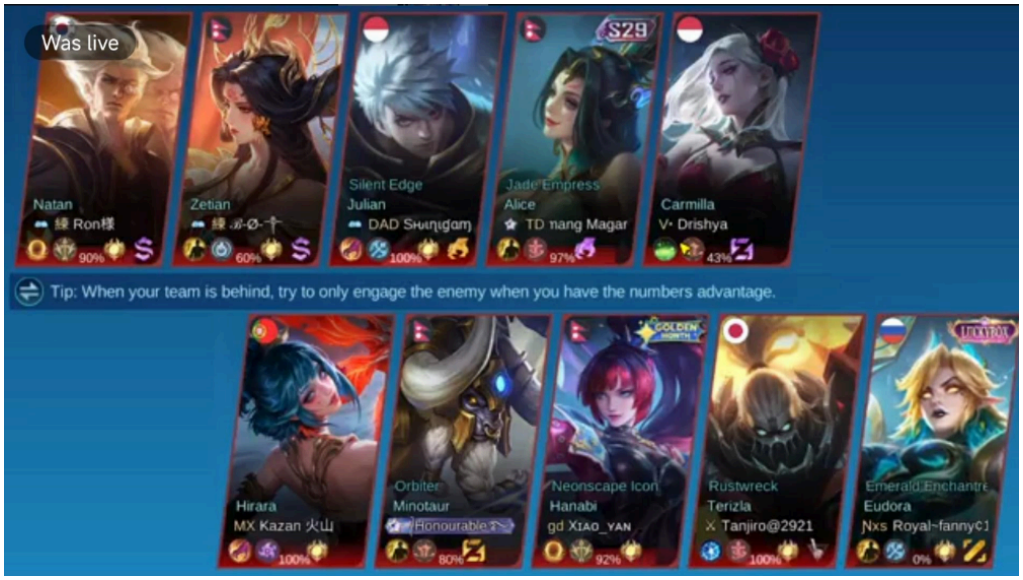

The project promoted teamwork, strategic thinking, communication, and sportsmanship among students. It provided students of Grades 9–12 with an opportunity to showcase their talents, build friendships, and participate in healthy competition. The event also strengthened the organizational, leadership, and coordination skills of club members while encouraging active student participation in extracurricular activities.
