About “A Tale of Their Localities”

Introduction:

As part of World Interact Week 2026, the Interact Club of Little Angels' School organized "A Tale of Their Localities," a cultural exchange session with the Interact Club of GBS Newroad, Pokhara, and the Interact Club of Sea Bird, Bhaktapur. During the session, members shared the unique cultures, traditions, history, and heritage of their respective localities. Our club introduced the rich cultural heritage of Lalitpur, while the other clubs shared insights into Bhaktapur and Pokhara. The event aimed to celebrate local diversity, encourage cultural understanding, and strengthen friendships among Interactors from different parts of Nepal.

Project Summary:

The cultural exchange "A Tale of Their Localities" brought together members of the Interact Club of Little Angels' School, the Interact Club of GBS Newroad, Pokhara, and the Interact Club of Sea Bird, Bhaktapur, as part of World Interact Week 2026. The session provided a platform for members from three different localities to share their cultural identities, explore their traditions, and learn more about the places they call home. It was a wonderful opportunity to connect beyond geographical boundaries and appreciate the diversity within our own country.

Threads of Two Traditions

The session began with representatives from each club introducing their respective localities. Members of the Interact Club of Little Angels' School shared insights into Lalitpur, highlighting its historical importance, traditional festivals, cultural practices, and famous heritage sites. Similarly, representatives from the Interact Club of Sea Bird introduced the rich cultural heritage of Bhaktapur, while members of the Interact Club of GBS Newroad shared the unique traditions, lifestyle, and cultural attractions of Pokhara. Each presentation offered a different perspective and helped participants discover interesting facts about one another's hometowns.

Throughout the exchange, members actively participated in discussions, shared their knowledge, and showed curiosity about the cultures being presented. The conversations helped everyone understand how each locality has its own unique identity, shaped by its history, traditions, and people. It also gave members an opportunity to learn about places they might have heard of but never explored in depth.

Overall, "A Tale of Their Localities" was more than just a cultural exchange. It was a celebration of Nepal's diversity and a reminder that every locality has its own story worth sharing. The event successfully encouraged cultural appreciation, strengthened connections between the participating clubs, and allowed members to discover the beauty of different parts of their own country.
