Introduction

The Interact Club of Shanti organized Project No. 16, Gau Seva, on the auspicious occasion of Gai Puja, with the aim of expressing gratitude, compassion, and respect towards cows. As cows hold a special place in Hindu culture and scriptures, where they are regarded as symbols of nourishment, kindness, and selfless giving, the project focused on promoting animal care and spreading the message of kindness towards all living beings. All participating club members came together to celebrate this meaningful occasion through service and fellowship.

Program Summary

As part of the project, club members visited a local Gaushala, where they spent quality time caring for and interacting with the cows. Members offered bananas, jaggery, and other food items to the cows as a gesture of love and gratitude. Everyone enjoyed the peaceful surroundings, interacted with the animals, and shared joyful moments together. The visit was not only an opportunity to serve but also a meaningful experience that helped members understand the importance of animal welfare and compassionate living. Rooted in the cultural and spiritual significance of Gai Puja, Gau Seva reminded everyone that kindness should extend beyond human beings to all living creatures. Through this initiative, the club successfully combined cultural values, animal welfare, and fellowship into one memorable experience.
