Introduction

INTERWOVEN – Cultural Exchange was an international virtual event organized by the Interact Club of Balodaya Pokhara on 6th November 2026, alongside the club's celebration of Interact Week 2026 under the theme Cultural Friday. The event brought together participants from Nepal, Myanmar, Tunisia, and Ethiopia on a common virtual platform to celebrate cultural diversity and promote friendship across borders. It provided an opportunity for participants to explore different traditions, customs, lifestyles, and cultural identities while building meaningful connections beyond geographical boundaries. The event aimed to promote mutual understanding, cultural appreciation, and international fellowship through the sharing of diverse cultures.

Event Summary

The event was conducted through Google Meet, bringing together members and guests from the participating countries. Each country was given an opportunity to present and share its unique culture, traditions, and heritage. Through their presentations, participants introduced different cultural practices, customs, and aspects of their national identities, allowing everyone to experience the beauty of different cultures.

The cultural exchange created an engaging environment where participants could learn about one another's backgrounds and appreciate the differences that make each culture unique. From Nepal to Myanmar, Tunisia, and Ethiopia, every presentation added a different perspective to the event and made the virtual gathering a meaningful experience.

Beyond sharing cultural information, INTERWOVEN encouraged international friendship, mutual respect, and understanding. It demonstrated that although people may speak different languages, follow different traditions, and live in different parts of the world, they can still connect through shared values of friendship, respect, and togetherness.

The event turned a virtual platform into a space for cultural connection and fellowship. It highlighted that cultural diversity is not a barrier but a beautiful opportunity to learn from one another. Through INTERWOVEN, the Interact Club of Balodaya Pokhara successfully celebrated the spirit of Cultural Friday by bringing different cultures together under one platform and spreading the message that our cultures may be different, but our connections bring us together.
